Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Next Tuesday perhaps 75 per cent of the registered voters will cast their ballots in a state election. The other twenty five per cent will shirk their duties as citizens. The reason we have such an expensive government, such a wasteful government, such a visionary and impractical government at Washington is probably because a large number of pleasure loving citizen find it a bore to take the time to study candidates who seek public office. Another large section of registered voters, individually do not believe their one vote would make any difference in the outcome.

To cure this condition sometime we shall have to enact a law which will disfranchise, for a shorter or longer period, all citizen slackers who fail to vote. These folks who fail to vote are usually the loudest yawpers when their taxes are upped. When the cost of living takes an unprecedented jump, the folks that failed to vote unload their agony on their neighbors. If all these whining non-patriots had done their part, it is always possible that the result might have been different.

One reason that recovery even now, when the Washington administration is spending more billions "to prime the pump," is only a pallid ghost of what European countries have experienced, is the fact that taxes are eating up the substance of the tax payers. What was once emergency relief, Harry Hopkins himself says, is now permanent relief. Business in the United States is beginning to stagger under the burden of relief. Especially is this true this year when the administration in Washington needs more reliefers for votes to elect more rubber stamp congressmen to vote more relief to make more votes in 1940.

Thus far in California we have followed a sane course. The blind, the aged, the destitute that have fled other states and sought refuge here, have been cared for. Monthly relief pensions have been far above the average for the United States, and with all that Governor Merriam and our state officials have kept the state's bookkeeping in the black. We have maintained California's splendid tradition of succoring those who need help, of giving a hand to those in distress who seek homes here. No one with the milk of human kindness in their hearts will regret what has been done.

Now we come to the cross roads. We must choose between a sound business administration and certain gentlemen who have promised ham and eggs, pensions of thirty phoney dollars every Thursday to every man and woman who dodders under the burden of fifty years. The advocates of this funny money scheme, namely, Olson who would like to be governor, Patterson, who would like to be lieutenant governor, and Downey who aspires to the U. S. Senate, have a long record of building fires under all of California's cracked pots. Riding on the something-for-nothing bandwagon they captured the Democratic nominations, but can this trio win to office in California?

That is the question that will be answered next Tuesday. Those who forget to cast their ballots next Tuesday or have something else to do that seems more important, or are merely indifferent and apathetic to California's welfare, will richly merit the fate that befalls all of us if Messrs. Olson, Patterson and Downey are elected, if the ham and egg pension plan and the single tax are carried and the curse of demagogue government and bird-witted legislation is laid upon this splendid state of ours.

Let us all remember that ignorance, bigotry, hatred and envy can win elections, as well as intelligence, tolerance and fair dealing. And when ignorance and hatred become top-dog as they have among many nations, the liberty to think, to do and to achieve as individuals is destroyed, and the light of freedom is extinguished as completely as it was in the Dark Ages.

QUILL STAFF BUSY

The Quill staff met on Wednesday night to select a theme for the "1939 Quill". "Gay Nineties" was chosen and many interesting and amusing things can be made around this theme. Jean Martz, who is editor, will start work on the "dummy" soon and the book will be under way. The Class of '39 hopes to publish a book that everyone will want. Miss Rector is advisor.

ROTARY HEARS SHERIFF TALK ON LABOR UNIONS

The Rotary club at luncheon yesterday heard Carl Tobiassen, sheriff of Nevada County, give a talk on the labor situation in the United States, an announcement by Horace Curnow, regarding the next scout drive, a statement by Hal Draper, chairman of the committee to raise funds for the Red Cross, and an invitation from Harold Robinson, secretary of Grass Valley Rotary, to attend a "ladies night" Rotary meeting in Grass Valley on November 14.

Horace Curnow, president of Nevada City's scout council, announced that the annual drive for funds will take place next Tuesday. There is approximately $500 to be raised as Nevada City's quota toward the Tahoe Scout Area expenses and certain improvements to be made in Seaman hall, leased to the scout council. Nine members of the club volunteered to aid in this drive.

Hal Draper said that the quota asked of Nevada City this year is $475. The campaign for mebbership will begin on November 11. This year it is expected to enroll two adult Red Cross members in every family and school children will be asked to contribute one penny or as much as they may wish to give. Since the last solicitation of Red Cross memberships, Nevada County has witnessed the Red Cross in quick action. Last December a flood in the North Yuba wiped out part of Downieville and did tremendous damage. The Red Cross immediately stepped in and provided food, clothing, shelter and bedding for those made homeless. E Clampus Vitus provided a great big Christmas tree and presents for the throngs of children, whose Christmas gifts had been swept down the river.

Sheriff Tobiassen gave an interesting address on the rise of John L. Lewis and subversive groups which have taken over the Committee for Industrial Organization. He stated that he was wholeheartedly in favor of all honest labor organizations. He declared that Lewis had always been a rebel in the American Federation of Labor and since he had been cast out of the AFL had striven to become not only the dictator of the subversive group of the CIO but of the United States, and, the sheriff said, there was a time when he had almost succeeded.

Thirteen men, the sheriff said, were responsible for the attempt to close the Murchie mine. These men were led by Scott Erwin and it was this outside man, coming to Nevada City from Iaho, who had instigated much of trouble which Nevada County had experienced.

"I believe in honest labor unions" said the sheriff, but not in the kind of unionism of Akron, Ohio, where a year ago 75,000 men were employey in the rubber industry, and now there are today but 25,000 and their condition, their pay and hours are no better than they were before the city was invaded by an army of CIO organizers and pickets. The California Crusaders estimate that the CIO throughout the country has thrown 4,000,000 men and women out of employment. Many small industries have been obliged to close their doors. San Francisco is going through the same process to which Akron was subjected. I would be glad if anyone could tell me anything good that Harry Bridges and the CIO have accomplished for San Francisco."

The sheriff said that under normal conditions he would be opposed to a measure such as No. 1 on next Tuesday's ballot, for the regulation of labor unions, but under the present circumstances he felt that such a measure is necessary to check the rising tide of radicalism.

THREE KINGS MINE

Ted LeMaire, who has the lease on the Three Kings mine at Alleghany, has secured English capital to continue work on his property. Supplies and materials are being rushed to the property in order to prepare for a steady run throughout the winter months. Eight men will be employed this winter and are now at the mine. The 1300 foot tunnel will be driven another 1,000 feet to develop ore. An old bunk house on the property is being remodeled and repaired to house the men. The property lies in one of the richest gold producing belts in the Alleghany district.

MERCHANTS TO DISCUSS HOLIDAY CLOSING TIME

There will be a meeting of business men and merchants in the chamber of commerce rooms this evening at 8 o'clock to discuss closing hours for the holiday season, from a date to be fixed until new years. Grass Valley is already taking steps in that direction. The proposal locally is to keep stores open until 9 o'clock in the evening.

RESTAURANT KEEPER TO FACE DISORDERLY CHARGE

There will be a hearing at ten o'clock today in the public room in the court house on a citation against Ray Barton, who conducts a restaurant on Commercial street, to show cause why her license should not be revoked.

An examiner from the State Board of Equalization will conduct the hearing. Complaint was filed against Ray Barton by Chief of Police W. G. Robson charging that she has violated regulations in conducting a disorderly house and also that she has sold liquor after 2:00 a. m. A number of witnesses in the neighborhood will be called.

WOMAN CHECK ARTIST NABBED IN MARYSVILLE

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen stated yesterday that the woman who cashed many checks in Nevada City and Grass Valley about ten days ago for sums averaging about $27.50, was arrested in Marysville when she attempted to cash her first check also one for $27.50. After the string of worthless checks was discovered here the sheriff broadcast such an accurate description of the woman she was recognized by the business firm in Marysville.

The officers questioned her and she stated she lived in Yuba City. The number proved false and she became confused but finally took the officers to a migrant camp where her husband and three children were found. She finally confessed her husband wrote the checks and she cashed them, and she had victimized people in Salinas, Santa Cruz, Grass Valley, Nevada City and was starting to work Marysville. It is estimated she must have taken in between $1500 and 2,000 in her travels. Her husband was also arrested and jailed and the three children cared for in the detention home.

Sheriff Carl Tobiassen took a Nevada City business man to Marysville yesterday to identify the woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Mabel Wilson.

ASSESSOR FINDS TWO MEASURES THREATEN RUIN

"Experienced tax officials realize how drastic, completely destructive and utterly impractical the proposed single tax measure actually is," declared J. M. Hammill, County Assessor of Nevada County.

Proposition No. 20 on the November ballot would shift the burden of the cost of government on to land and property owners and this transfer would not be equal or uniform. The actual application of the measure would be grossly unequal and local tax officials would be forced to make absurd attempts to levy and collect increased land value taxes, ranging from 100 per cent to 600 per cent.

Such a ridiculously impractical proposal will result in tax delinquencies, pyramided tax levies on remaining taxpayers, confiscation of property, bankruptcy, chaos, and destruction of the tax raising machinery of our state, counties, cities, and special districts," said J. M. Hammil, county assessor of Nevada County.

If Proposition 20, the single tax initiative, had been in full effect last year, not taking into account any decrease in the assessed value of land or any of the inevitable tax delinquencies, its minimum effect would have been to require a tax levy upon land inside cities in Ne-

Retain Merriam Is Plea of Non-Partisan Group of Voters

A non-partisan group of fifty eight men and women in all walks of life, most of them known throughout the county, has authorized an advertisement appearing on Page 2 of this issue of the Nugget, appealing to all sensible men and women to support Governor Merriam at next Tuesday's election.

It is a statement that might well serve as a model to all writers of advertisements. There is no exaggeration of Governor Merriam's accomplishments in having given California a sound, practical administration, caring for all those many government services which the people of California have themselves voted, within the state's tax income. There is no reference to the opposing candidate, nor to his record and the varied and sometimes contradictory principles that he has expressed.

There is no reference to the fact that the alternative of Governor Merriam is State Senator Olson, one time aspirant for the job of lieutenant governor on the EPIC platform with Upton Sinclair. There is no reference to the fact that Tom Mooney, dynamiter and murderer, from his cell in San Quentin is sending out desperate appeals for the election of Olson. Here is a sample that arrived in the Nugget's yesterday morning's mail with a picture of Mooney adorning the circular.

"I am convinced that Senator Olson, if elected governor, will grant me a full and unconditional pardon that in justice I should have had years ago."

And excerpts of Senator Olson on Assembly Concurrent Resolution Relative to Granting a Full and Complete Pardon to Thomas Mooney, Legislative Session of 1937: "However if the Courts should decide that we do not have the power, the adoption of this resolution would, at least, mean the expression of the will of this body with reference to the pardon of Mooney, and be persuasive upon the Governor, if the pardoning power resides solely in the Governor."

"No one" says Mooney in his circular, "reading this speech can have any doubt of what Senator Olson would do in my case if elected governor."

No one who knows Olson and is familiar with his record doubts that he will free Mooney. No one doubts that he will attempt to put the state of California into the business of production for use, which is nothing but state socialism such as is practiced in Germany. He advocated this during the campaign four years ago when he was the running mate of Upton Sinclair.

But the appeal signed by 58 men and women of Nevada County makes no mention of California's alternative to Governor Merriam. It asks candidly for the retention of a sane, sensible, efficient and honest governor in office.

ELKS BASKETBALL TEAM BECOMES LEAGUE MEMBER

The Nevada City Lodge of Elks, No. 518 is sponsoring a Nevada City basketball team which will play regular weekly games in Nevada City. Games have already been scheduled through January.

Many of the Nevada City boys, Nevada City high school graduates and new boys who have come here to live have expressed a desire for an opportunity to engage in athletic games and especially basketball which can be played throughout the winter season.

Considering this desire and need the Social and Community Welfare Committee of the Nevada City Elks lodge has taken over the project of sponsoring a basketball team which will be known as the Elks' Basketball Team. Through the sponsorship of the Elks this team has become a member of the Basketball League which is also a member of the Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

The committee hopes to obtain permission from the Nevada City high school trustees to hold the games in the high school gymnasium.

Three league games are scheduled with Sacramento teams, one league game with a Roseville team and one league game with an Auburn team. Any week that a league game must be played away from Nevada City the committee will arrange with some outside non-league team to play here, thus assuring the public the entertainment of a game every week.

This is a splendid project, furnishing recreation for the young men in the community and entertainment for interested "fans" and spectators. Without doubt the Elks will receive hearty cooperation from the community in their sponsorship of this recreation and entertainment project.

Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Buffington, Sr., and son, Bill, and Miss Frances Savio will go to Redding next week end to take part in celebrating the birthday of Mrs. Buffington's sister in that city. While there they will go to see the new Shasta dam and spend some time salmon fishing.

Mrs. F. F. Cassidy who fell last week and severely strained her shoulder is recovering nicely.

P.T.A. REQUESTS SAFEGUARD OF CITY WATER

At the regular meeting of the city council last evening a review of the WPA projects completed, those in progress and new ones to start was made. Other business before the council was:

A communication was left at the meeting by the Elementary School P. T. A. president, Mrs. W. P. Lee, and her secretary requesting that the city treat the drinking water of the city.

The city officials agreed to join the league of municipalities. There are 289 incorporated cities in the state and 250 belong to the league.

The WPA projects came up for survey and it was found that the storm drain on Oregon Creek that runs under several business houses on Commercial street was completed; the Main street bridge had been reinforced and widened; Spring street will be finished in another week. A crew is working on the Gold Run bridge where scaffolding is up and drilling hitches to hold the pedestrian sidewalk is in progress. The next work will be taking down the steel top trusses on the Broad street bridge and construction of a cement pier in the middle of Deer Creek to strengthen the bridge, and cut out one sidewalk to make the bridge wider. This morning Street Superintendent Herbert Hallett has men painting the trusses on the Main street bridge and a reflector will be installed at each end of the new low trusses so that motorists may see them at night.

Forty WPA men are employed on the projects and it is estimated the six improvements as mapped by City Engineer Ed C. Uren will be completed by the first of the year if weather permits. As soon as wet weather starts work begin on the WPA project on the city reservoirs.

The Spring street project, according to figures compiled by City Engineer Uren will cost $606.45. The Broad street project which starts immediately will cost $2521.50; the Gold Run bridge changes will cost $524.92; widening and improving B street, the sixth project will cost approximately $866.80.

Ham And Eggs On The Run

An electric sense of optimism swept through Republican ranks this week as they observed with enthusiasm the ever-growing swing toward Merriam and Franklin.

The public has caught up with the extreme left-wing views of the Olson-Patterson-Downey trinity, Republicans said, and voters would not support their fantastic and fatal formulas.

They pictured the opposition, faced with wholesale desertions in every section of the state because of the erratic character of their candidates, approaching the panic stage as November 8 drew nearer.

The left-wingers were now definitely on the defensive, the Merriam-Franklin forces said, and were fighting wildly to keep certain defeat from becoming a rout.

Political observers saw nothing unusual in this development of the campaign. Any group they said, that had to carry Pete McDonough, John L. Lewis and his west coast lieutenant Harry Bridges and the whole host of radical racketeers of a Socialistic-Communistic tinge, must face hard sledding in an appeal to sound and patriotic California voters.

Further weakness developed in the left-wing ranks, when Olson and Patterson began to duck and dodge on issues believed fundamental in this campaign.

In the primary, Olson and Patterson skillfully, if not willfully used their indorsement of the fantastic $30 Every Thursday pension scheme to win the party nominations. But in the closing weeks of the campaign, when it began to appear that this indorsement might hurt more than help, Olson and Patterson suddenly became strangely silent on this issue.

Olson had equal lapses when it came to discussing John L. Lewis. Harry Bridges and the C. I. O. He made no mention of them in his speeches. He was more vocal when it came to the American Federation of Labor, styling William Green, president of the A. F. of L. "a labor faker." Naturally this did not sit well with union men, affiliated with the A. F. of L., who deeply resented the characterization of their chief. "When Olson calls Green a labor faker" they answered hotly, "he is calling all of us fakers."

The fact is, observers pointed out, the campaign is no longer a duel between Republican and Democrat.

Men and women, who all their lives have registered Democratic, many of them for years acknowledged leaders of their party, refuse to accept Olson and Patterson as representative of their party and have asserted publicly they will vote for Merriam and Franklin and Bancroft.

The issue, they see clearly, is one dealing with the preservation of fundamental American ideals—of choosing between sound and proven governmental policies and policies and measures certain to lead to economic and social chaos.—Contributed.

THIS AND THAT

By ROY GRIFFITHS DEETER

These days we find ourselves ambling about with our usually empty head full of politics. We are still chuckling HUGELY over Vernon Stoll's last letter to the voters. We have an insane desire, every time we se him, to shout, "Hi, Fuller Brush Stoll!" and we really don't think he'd mind as he brought it on himself. The letter was extremely witty, as no doubt those of you who READ it know. We enjoyed the illustrations too—and we seem to see the skillful hand of the D. A's. secretary therein.

We are also very anxious about Olson and the Single Tax. It seems to us that these two items simply MUST be defeated. Our friend Olson on account of because he is smooth and slimy and utterly without principle—he is a neat and sugared speaker, but under the sugar, there is a very, very bitter taste awaiting this state if the voters make the mistake of deciding to sample him. Then this Proposition No. 20. There is absolutely no argument about this, it positively MUST go down the drain, and anyone of you who votes FOR it deserves to be haunted by herds of gargoyles for the rest of your unnatural lives. However you have only to read through this bill once to see how hideous it is. It amounts to this—Twenty years from now, the land tax will amount to SEVENTY THREE per cent and ALL OTHER TAXES to only 27 per cent. Now we ASK you? Is that even REMOTELY sane?

According to figures at our elbow as we write this, had this proposition gone into effect last year, the citizens of Nevada City would have been paying $16.13 per hundred dollars assessed value in lieu of the present AVERAGE $3.04. The whole thing is outrageous. It means utter CHAOS for the State—We earnestly IMPLORE you—VOTE NO ON PROPOSITION 20.

WE ARE truly sad to learn of the death of Candy, after four weeks of a valiant fight for life, this brave little horse has gone to his eternal pasture. it is almost like losing a friend.

AND with this, we say to YOU, VOTE NO on proposition 20 and cheerio, everybody.

NEWEST WAY TO REPAIR TIRES IS TO WELD THEM

Mr. G. R. Jarrard, manager of the O. K. Tire Weld Company in Hills Flat, does some almost unbelievable repair work on inner tubes that would normally, defy fixing. By a special process strong new rubber is grafted into the broken tube. To weld securely a gaping hole 6 by 8 inches is all in the day's work, says Mr. Jarrard.

ON HIS TRAIL

IRRIGATION DIST. REVEALS GROWTH

William Durbrow, manager of the Nevada Irrigation District, stated recently that the growth of the irrigation district service is revealed by the fact that outside the city limits of Nevada City and Grass Valley there are more than a thousand water customers most of them near Grass Valley. The N. I. D. is now laying pipe to supply Hills Flat and is extending the Alta Hill service.

In 1933 the district purchased the Gold Hill water system from the Pacific Gas and Electric company, doubling its irrigation service. This area is south-west of Grass Valley.

Water is supplied to residents on the Murchie mine road and in the Willow Valley section besides a large territory in the Town Talk district.

The proposed Scotts Flat dam will permit sales of water to mining in the Blue Tent section and provide additional revenue for the N. I. D. The increased business has resulted in a small addition to the office force. The district throughout the year employs between 50 and 150 persons.

The mining industry provides a good source of revenue for the district and the NID now serves far more mines than in 1930. The district supplies water for six dredgers and six quartz mines in Placer county. All mines in the Nevada City-Grass Valley area purchase water from the district also.

Manager Durbrow stated $400,000 has been applied to the bonded indebtedness of the district during the last six months. The total annual revenue is $600,000, which includes water sold to the Pacific Gas and Electric company. Assessed valuation of land in the district in Nevada and Placer counties is $4,000,000 but the district only collects $30,000 through assessments which is less than one per cent of the assessed valuation.

Mrs. Clarence F. Brill of San Francisco is visiting this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carribean Orzalli, and brothers on Grove street.

An Appeal To All Men And Women Who Think

This statement is an appeal from the undersigned NON-PARTISAN MERRIAM FOR GOVERNOR COMMITTEE addressed to all fair-minded voters regardless of their political affiliations.

We know exactly where Governor Merriam stands on all important issues at all times. He does not straddle and try to play both ends towards the middle.

Nevada County Led All The Rest

In the primaries Governor Merriam received in Nevada County more votes per capita than in any other county of California. This shows the appreciation of the citizens for his assistance in maintaining law and order when our principal industry was threatened with serious disruption. There is no reason to change this.

Compare the dignified and business-like Dr. Franklin with the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, who came to Nevada County to help the mal-contents who were hammering down the gates of our industry.

Phil Bancroft, aide of Hiram Johnson in driving the Southern Pacific out of politics, the man who will not make promises in exchange for votes, is the sensible candidate for United States Senator.

FAWN HIT BY AUTO GROWS UP TO BE MASCOT

TRUCKEE, No. 3.—"Duke" the officially elected mascot at the forest service transient camp on Galena Creek near Reno, would have an interesting tale to relate to his grandchildren, if deer tell tales to their grandchildren, according to H. I. Snider, forest ranger at Truckee. It would start on a certain evening in August, 1937, when an autoist hit a then unnamed fawn on the highway near Brockway, and then took him high up on the stateline lookout where Johnny Nelson, the lookout man stationed there, gave him first aid. Nelson happened to be a big-hearted young fellow, and in spite of the many proposals that the fawn be killed to end its misery, he thought it had a chance and nursed it back to health. "Duke" progressed rapidly, soon learning to manipulate the nipple on the milk bottle and soon was grazing at will around the lookout and a pet of all the visitors who came there. He recovered from the leg injury, but the neck injury caused him to carry his head tipped to one side. At the end of the fire season, Nelson had to leave for his home, and turned the young spike buck over to the transient camp where he insisted on sleeping out in the snow throughout the record-breaking storms of last February. Upon vote of the workers in camp, "Duke" was duly installed as chief mascot and the assortment of dogs and cats banished. He strolls at will about the camp, inspects the buildings, and whatever he desires, and even goes into camp manager Heckman's house to clean up any vegetable tops or other edibles that he happens to find. The fact that he is particularly fond of cigarette butts reduces the police duty somewhat in the camp. The camp workers took no chances and confined "Duke" strictly within camp limits during the Nevada deer season. So that he would not get entirely stale, he was broke to be led by a rope, and the workers took turns on giving him his "constitutional" mornings and evenings.

RIVER BED WILL BE MOVED MAKE WAY FOR DAM

REDDING, Nov. 3.—A new bed is being prepared for the Sacramento River at the Shasta Dam site where 1,250 men are at work for the United States Bureau of Reclamation and three contractors on various phases of early construction.

Excavation is well under way for a temporary diversion channel which will extend 2,000 feet along the east side of the present river channel opposite the 1,820 foot railroad by-pass tunnel being bored through the west abutment of the dam site.

Frank T. Crowe, superintendent for the general contractor, reported to Construction Engineer Ralph Lowry that the diversion channel will be completed by spring, ready to carry the 1939 low flow of the river past the dam site, thereby permitting the first concrete to be placed in the base of Shasta Dam next summer.

When the seasonal peak of the river has subsided in the spring, small cofferdams will be built both up-stream and down stream from the dam site, to turn the river into the diversion channel and "un-water" a quarter of a mile of the present channel. It is planned that excavation for the base of the dam can be completed and some concrete poured in the lowest portion in the river channel before high water comes again in the late fall of 1939. At that time the river will be turned out of the temporary diversion channel and permitted to flow over the low blocks of concrete in the dam.

Mrs. Bert Davidson came down yesterday from the Birdie D and Sadie D mine which her husband is operating near Snow Point to attend to business affairs.

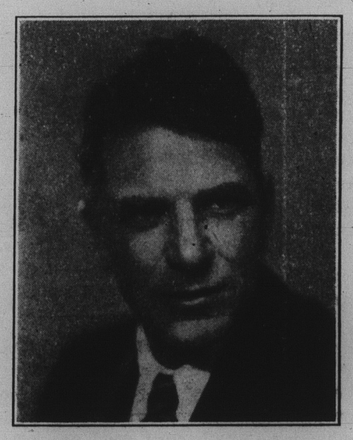
Vernon Stoll



(HIS RECORD)

1. Born in Tehama County, 1903.
2. Worked way through school.
3. Education: California public schools, University of California. Boalt Hall of Law.
4. Admitted to Bar, 1927.
5. Practiced law in Nevada County nine years.
6. District Attorney four years.
7. Trial Experience: Varied in both civil and criminal matters, both in private practice and as district attorney.
8. Civil matters connected with District Attorney's office: Routine matters, in addition to preparing of seven school bond issues.

Vernon Stoll has made Nevada County his residence since 1929. He has an understanding of local conditions and the problems of a mining community which can be gained only through years of sympathetic association. He has proven, through his successful trial experience and handling of criminal cases that he is exceedingly well-qualified to carry on the duties of this vital puflic trust. Four years ago you pledged your support to this man as an expression of your confidence in his ability to protect your homes and families against criminals—to uphold the law at all times, and he has justified your faith in him. He has maintained a firm stand for law enforcement even in the face of severe criticism—displaying a courage which should go far toward convincing the people of Nevada County that they now possess a district attorney who is honest, courageous, and efficient — WE SHOULD KEEP HIM AS DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

RECORD OF ELLIS PATTERSON IN LEGISLATURE

Ellis E. Patterson served as Assemblyman from Monterey and San Luis Obispo counties in the 1933, 1935, and 1937 sessions of the California legislature, and is now a candidate for Lieutenant Governor. His record, as shown here, is taken from the Journals of the California Assembly, from the Western Worker, which was the Western organ of the Communist party, U. S. A., and from the People's World, the successor to the Western Worker.

Criminal Syndicalism Law—This act was passed by the legislature in 1919 to protect us from those who advocate or practice violence or force in the overthrow of our government.

On January 21, 1935, Assemblyman Patterson introduced a bill (AB 419) to repeal this law. The bill died without a vote.

On January 11, 1937, Patterson again introduced a bill (AB 311) to repeal the law. It failed again.

On May 21, 1937, Patterson also introduced a resolution (HR 185) demanding that the Governor pardon certain persons convicted of criminal syndicalism.

Our present school code provides that the advocating or practice of criminal syndicalism is a cause for dismissal of teachers employed in our public schools. On January 22, 1937, Patterson introduced a bill (AB 2580) to repeal this section of the school code.

Use of Schools for Communist Meetings—In 1935, the legislature passed an act (AB 106) prohibiting the use of schools for meetings of a seditious nature. This bill was approved by the Governor and now is part of our school code. Patterson voted against this act on May 31, 1935.

Marriage of Filipinos and White Girls—Such marriages are forbidden by California. When the assembly passed a resolution (AJR 14) on March 11, 1938, asking the state of Utah to adopt the same law, Patterson voted NO! He was one of the only four assemblymen who voted against this resolution.

Favors Sit-Down Strikes — The Western Worker, Western organ of the Communist Party, U. S. A., on April 26, 1937, reported that "Assemblyman E. E. Patterson declares himself in favor of sit-down strikes" in a talk at Sacramento before the conference for Independent Political Action.

Congratulates Communist Daily—On January 1, 1938, the Western Worker, Western organ of the Communist party, became a daily and changed its name to People's World. It is published in San Francisco. Congratulations were received by the paper from Harry Bridges, Anita Whitney, state chairman of the Communist party and Ellis E. Patterson. Patterson said "We need a newspaper in California that will tell the people the unbiased truth about all social, economic and political events here and abroad. We need a newspaper that will voice the cause of the masses.'

Radical Votes — The California People's Legislative Council (reputedly supported by the Communist party) in 1937 published a report showing that Patterson voted right 27 times and wrong only once in legislation they were interested in.

ASSESSOR FINDS

vada County of $16.12, an increase of 462 per cent, and on rural land outside of cities in Nevada County, the tax rate would have been $10.-25, an increase of 445 per cent.

Assessor Hammill stated further that lands cannot stand such an increase in tax levies and remain in private ownership for already delinquencies are beginning to mount and with low income from land, the result will be tragic.

Regarding No. 25, the "Ham and Eggs," or "30 Warrants Every Thursday" measure, Mr. Hammill presents a few facts:

Constitutionality: Many able lawyers are in agreement that the plan is unconstitutional because it is in conflict with Article 1, Section 10 of the Federal Constitution which prohibits issuance of bills of credit by the States.

Reduction in State Revenues: State revenues derived from Sales and Income Taxes which are at present yielding over $100,000,000 per annum would disappear. This would remove the major source of revenue for support of our public school system.

Cost of Redemption of Stamps: The 2c redemption stamps required by the plan would cost California job holders and merchants over $30,-000,000 each week. By the end of a year the aggregate cost would amount to a billion and a half dollars.

Cost of Stamps Compared with Present Taxes: The annual cost of redemption stamps would constitute a drain on the income of the people of California nearly four times as large as state and local tax levies for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1937.

Business Turnover Insufficient: Proponents of the plan admit that in order to liquidate sufficient warrants to meet pension obligations, the annual business turnover in the state would have to reach approximately ten billion dollars more than the entire national income for 1937.

Present Welfare and Relief Programs Threatened: A reduction in present revenues would jeopardize California's generous old-age pension plan now in effect. Not only would the state's share be abolished, but aid from the Federal Government would be discontinued due to the inability of the state to match federal funds.

Influx Into California: Passage of this plan would attract thousands of indigents to California. They would present a major relief problem to the state and counties until they had acquired the five-year residence necessary to qualify for the $30 Every Thursday.

California Would Be Economically Isolated: California's export trade would be completely destroyed due to price differentials between this and other states.

Inflation: Prices which would affect the cost of living of everyone living in the state would immediately skyrocket, thus offsetting any value the plan might offer in the way of stimulating business activity.

Credit Rating of State and Local Government Threatened: Even the possibility of the enactment of the amendment has adversely affected state and local credit reflected in a lack of confidence on the part of investors in California bonds.

Curtailment of Essential Governmental Services: By serious curtailment of state revenues the essential services of government would be paralyzed if not completely abandoned. including our public school system, law enforcing agencies, public highways, asylums and penal institutions.

GROUP PICTURES

On Thursday Mr. Maurice Kach began to take pictures for the Quill. All the organizations will be taken, as well as athletics and classes. Seniors may begin having their pictures taken at any time.

The general committee to arrange rules for the party was asked to meet soon. Faydean White was appointed chairman of the refreshments committee. Her coworkers are Betty Krough, Marylin Lee, Joyce Henwood and Florence Winney. Each club member may invite a guest who must comply with the rules also. All the girls are looking forward to the event.

The club plans to make pom-poms with the school colors to sell for the Nevada City-Grass Valley football game on Armistice Day. The meeting was closed with a yell led by Victoria Soga.

C. S. F. CONVENTION

The Nevada City C. S. F. is going to attend a convention in Sacramento on November 5. Mr. Smith, music instructor is trying to get a drum corps organized in Nevada City high school. A number of students wish to participate and everyone hopes that the attempt will be successful.

SEARCHLIGHT IS OUT

The students at Nevada City high received Searchlights on Wednesday afternoon. The members of the staff try to make it an interesting paper and the readers agree that they have succeeded. One of the best parts of this new Searchlight was a poem written by the sports editor, Bill Joyal, concerning "Football Etiquette". Alice Norton is editor and Mr. Burke is advisor.

ASSEMBLY

An assembly program will be given today by the student body. Members from each class will participate. Later in the year, each individual class and organization will entertain the assembly, but this is an effort for all the school to cooperate. There is much talent in the school, and students and factulty are looking forward to a fine program.

Candlemaker Prepares for Christmas

The robin may herald the spring, but Winston-Salem, N. C., has the most reliable harbinger of Santa Claus. Miss Ella Butner, official candlemaker for the Moravian church in the South, is busy at her annual task of making by hand, in ancient molds, all the 10,000 candles to be used by Moravian congregations in their Christmas love-feasts. The children of Old Salem crowd around to watch Miss Ella's nimble old fingers and bask in her wise old smile.

ADELINE CONNER POET LAUREATE OF LUMBERMEN

A new honor has come to Mrs. Adeline Conner of North San Juan, lovingly known to the many readers of her poems which are regularly published in the Nugget, as "A. M. C." She has been claimed Poet Laureate of the Lumber Industry of North America. Sunday a group of lumbermen and their ladies came to the Conner home "The Cedars" to affirm the appointment. Among them were: Frank W. Trower, president and active manager of the Trower Lumber Company of San Francisco, his wife and daughter. Bert E. Bryan, president and active manager of the Strable Hardwood-wood company of Oakland and his wife. Mrs. Grace Paulding of Oakland and Charley S. Bird, president and active manager of Stockton Lumber Company, of Stockton and Charles H. Woolley, representative of Business Publications Bureau of San Francisco.

Douglas Malloch has been the Lumberman's Poet Laureate for the past thirty five years and the honor of being appointed to assume his preogative came as a great surprise to Mrs. Conner. Following is letter sent by the chairman of the Parson Simpkin Memorial Committee for 1938 and presented to Mrs. Conner at her home in North San Juan by the emissaries who came Sunday.

Hoo-Hoo-Club.
Oakland, California, Oct. 24, 1938.
Mrs. Adeline Merriam Conner
North San Juan, Nevada County
California.
Dear Mrs. Conner:

It becomes the proud duty and privilege of the undersigned, as chairman of the Parson Simpkin Memorial committee for 1938, to notify you that, at a meeting of lumbermen, their ladies and friends assembled around a campfire, under a beautiful moon and stars which seemed almost within arm's reach in the Calaveras Grove of Big Trees Saturday evening, October 8th, 1938. you were there and then proclaimed Poet Laureate of the Lumber Industry of North America.

Also, that at a meeting of the Board of Directors and at a meeting of the members of Hoo-Hoo, held in Oakland on October 17th and October 24th, 1938, respectively, the action taken at the meeting held October 8th, 1938 was unanimously affirmed.

We do not have the paraphernalia and ceremony script usually available for proper proclamation of a Poet Laureate never the less we are sure that no Poet Laureate was ever acclaimed with more heartfelt joy or deeper appreciation.

Cordially yours,
B. E. BRYAN.

BIG TIME DANCE BAND TONIGHT IN GRASS VALLEY

The winter dancing season opens this evening with a bang in the Veterans Memorial building in Grass Valley with Maurice Kach managing one of those rare good times that so many dancing folk enjoyed this spring and summer. As is his invariable practice he presents a "name" attraction.

The music will be provided by Jack Mills and his 12-piece NBC-CBS orchestra. This famous band of musicians is pausing for this special dance in Grass Valley, while enroute from the east to Seattle. Their music is the style known as the sophisticated swing. The band carries with it vocalists of first magnitude, such as Woody Ostlubd, Scratch Clark, Bill McMulen and Dick Clauseen.

Among their latest triumphs are the Pla-mor Ballroom, of Kansas City; Royal Villa, Omaha; Club Lido, Tulsa; Excelsior Ballroom, Minneapolis; Rainbow Ballroom, Denver; and many others, besides playing many times on the major radio networks. Dancing will start tonight at 9 p. m. at the usual popular admission prices.

YES VOTE URGED ON INDUSTRIAL PEACE MEASURE

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

That there is something radically wrong with labor relations in California—that there is desperate need for temperate action, peaceful mediation and less senseless warfare—is self-evident.

The City of San Francisco, which has been generous to organized labor has been repaid for its generosity by a prolonged series of strikes that has driven trade to other communities and has stagnated business and industry.

Los Angeles, too, has been hard hit by industrial disturbances — by sit-down strikes, beatings, bombings and strong arm tactics which made a mockery of law and order until the people of Los Angeles, a few weeks ago, adopted an ordinance regulating strikes and picketing.

Rural California — at Salinas, Stockton, Grass Valley and many other battlefronts—has felt the disastrous impact of "the march inland" led by "goon squads" and radical agitators.

There can be no argument over the fact that California needs to supplant collective brawling with collective bargaining; that it needs to learn to "live and let live" and that it must crack down on labor leaders drunk with power, who have forgotten that liberty is not license and that privileges beget responsibilities.

To meet that need, Proposition No. 1 on the November ballot was fashioned. It does not prohibit collective bargaining; it does not place unfair restrictions on labor unionism; it does not deny labor the right to strike, nor the right to fight for the welfare of its members. But it does protect the welfare of the innocent bystander — the general public; it does deprive Communists and radical firebrands of the right to seize property, to interfere with the orderly movement or shipment of crops. It does provide for a new era of law and order. And for that reason, if no other, California's farming industry —and all right-thinking Californians —should be one hundred per cent for it.

Proposition No. 1, in brief, PROHIBITS:

Interference with the free use of highways and wharves.

Mass picketing.

Picketing by outsiders, not a party to the controversy.

Coercion and intimidation of employees.

Secondary boycotts, such as a boycott against one person to compel him to boycott another person with whom he has no quarrel.

"Hot cargo," a practice by which one union compels all union men (regardless of agreements, or satisfaction with their own working conditions) to refuse to handle any commodity which the first union declares "unfair."

Sit-down strikes, which involve illegal seizure of property and which, if permitted, would lead to anarchy.

In short, Proposition No. 1 seeks to prohibit force and violence and to protect the public welfare.

Labor leaders opposing Proposition No. 1 make the statement in their official argument against the proposal that: "Organized labor has now arrived at the point where it is generally conceded to have the right to bargain collectively and to protect the rights of its members against imposition in all dealings with employers. Along with this position of equality has come the recognition by the leaders and the rank and file of organized labor of responsibilities which go with these now generally recognized rights."

With the first part of that statement, no fair minded citizen has any quarrel. Labor does have the right to bargain collectively. And it should be protected in that right, as it is in Proposition No. 1. But with the second statement—that labor (particularly labor's leadership) has learned to accept its responsibilities — the facts are in violent disagreement. There has been no evidence of such acceptance of responsibility; quite the contrary, there has been constant turmoil; constant affront to law and order. The rank and file of labor, we believe, disapprove of strong-arm methods just as much as the general public. And the rank and file worker, who wants paychecks rather than strike benefits, should join with agriculture and the public at large in disarming labor's dictators — in stripping them of their brass knuckles and their thugs and gangsters. California wants labor peace. Proposition No. 1 is the road to peace. Every fair minded citizen should support it.

BRONCOS, TITANS BENEFIT CLASH, SACTO. NOV. 27

Fine feathers may not make fine birds, but at least they help to make the birds believe in themselves. Following out this thought Coach Charles E. "Gus" Dorais of the University of Detroit football team is going to dress up his 1938 Titans for the intersectional game in Sacramento Stadium on November 27 with the Santa Clara Broncos as few elevens have ever been dressed before.

Nevada City grid fans who anticipate being at the capital city stadium late this month are going to see just about the reddest things on two feet when the University of Detroit players come on the field for the starting whistle. Whether the fans will call the Titans the "Cardinal Cataclysm," the "Vermillion Vengeance," the "Scarlet Sirocco" or the "Crimson Catastrophe" remains to be seen.

The piece de resistance of the costume—you couldn't belittle it by calling it a mere uniform—is a pair of cardinal pants with narrow white stripes down the side. The pants are of knitted material, which, in Dorais' opinion, works out better for general football purposes than anything else he has tried.

Wool jerseys of flaming cardinal with gold pants will be worn. Helmets will be of white, striped in red to comply with the rules requiring a distinctive marking on the headgear. Stockings will be white with narrow red stripes. So far it hasn't been found feasible to supply the athletes with red shoes, so their footwear will give the only sombre note in the ensemble.

Just what effect the colorful costumes of the Detroit team will have on the Santa Clara Broncos is a matter of question.

Detroit has a tough assignment when they meet Buck Shaw's top notchers, but anything can happen in a football game and the University of Detroit players are pointing toward the almost impossible—defeating Santa Clara.

Hallowe'en Party Is Much Enjoyed

The eighth grade pupils, who won the P. T. A. membership drive last week, were treated to a delightful Hallowe'en party Monday evening at the Washington grammar school. There were 57 pupils present. The P. T. A. has secured 167 members for the coming year.

Principal Cecil Klee and Mrs. Elza Kilroy, teachers, were dressed as Indian chief and an old fashioned lady, respectively. The children were all in costumes, noted were a Charlie Chaplin, a Spanish girl, Amos and Andy team, ghosts, etc., all producing much merriment. Prizes were awarded for best costumes. LATEST SOUND SYSTEM INSTALLED IN THEATRE

Nevada Theatre keeps pace with motion pictures greatest year by installing a new R. C. A. high fidelity sound system. This new sound system is the last word in theatre sound and will give the people of Nevada City and vicinity the best in reproduction.

R. C. A. Victor in the past five years has constantly and consistently kept ahead of any other company in new discoveries and inventions that have revolutionized the theatre sound and studio recording equipments by being first and best in all fields.

All this research has been built into the equipment that has just been installed.

The management feels that this installation will be a big improvement over the former system not only in quality but in clarity of speech and the true fidelity of every note in all musical numbers from classical operas to swing.

ACCUSED OF HOMICIDE RELEASED ON BOND

Walter Fiebig, 25, who was arraigned in the justice court of Judge W. L. Mobley Wednesday on a charge of negligent homicide has been released, having furnished the fixed bond of $500.

Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Buffington fished near Gridley Friday and caught a 40 pound salmon. On the following day Carl Foote, Will Buffington and Bill, Jr., went to the same spot near a dam about six miles from Gridley and caught another 40 pound salmon.
